Length of Time Teaching for World of Music: 3 years

Education: B.A. in music (classical guitar) from Edinboro University

Background:

Claude is truly a lover of music in nearly all of its styles, from classical to contemporary. Witnessing a friend playing guitar at the age of 19 brought on the notion to pursue a vocation in music for Claude. At age 32, upon taking a fellow musician's advice to learn music theory, he entered college where his musical knowledge was profoundly enhanced. Years of diligent practicing and experience have given him a solid foundation to draw upon in order to teach his students. His discipline in practice has enabled him to reap the rewards of self-fulfillment.

Strengths:

- Teaches a wide array of instruments
- Very open-minded; enjoys teaching many styles of music
- Knows the value of proper instruction, as he continues his own education
