

Instructor: Dan

Basics:

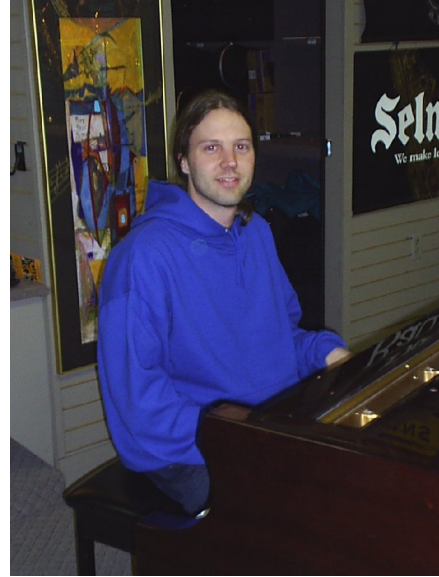

Teaches: Guitar and Piano

Time Played: 18 years

Teaching Experience: 15 years

Length of Time Teaching for World of Music: 9 years

Education: B.A. in music from Edinboro University
-B.S. in psychology from Penn State

Background:

Daniel Monacella has successfully taught guitar since 1992. He also taught the basic guitar and advanced guitar classes at Mercyhurst Prep High School. Dan has been teaching guitar and piano at World of Music since the summer of 1998. Since then, he has performed on guitar, bass, and keyboard with many groups in public. Dan has also done many solo performances in the classical piano genre.

Strengths:

Dan welcomes guitar and piano students of all interests and styles. He teaches with a particular focus in reading music, music theory, and music technique along with a focus on memorized repertoire and performance. He also allows the student to explore his or her own interests in different musical genres such as modern rock, metal, acoustic, jazz, and other styles.